

ANOTHER AIR PRIZE HAS BEEN OFFERED

Lord Northcliffe Will Give $50,000 to Successful Aviator.

LONDON TO EDINBURGH

First One to Accomplish Round Trip Between Cities Will Receive Fortune.

London, April 30.—Great Britain will be the scene of another aerial competition for a prize of $50,000. The prize will be given to the first British aviator flying from London to Edinburgh and back. The distance between the two points by railway is 400 miles.

This announcement was made to-day at a luncheon in honor of Louis Paulhan, the occasion upon which the French aviator was presented with a check for $50,000, the reward for his epoch-making flight from London to Manchester.

The second prize also is offered by the publishing concern of which Lord Northcliffe is the head.

White to Try Elsewhere.

A distinguished competitor was present at the luncheon to-day. The guests included Graham White, who received a consolation prize in the shape of a $500 silver cup for his splendid, though futile, attempt in the recent competition.

The English aviator announced that he would devote the funds being collected by popular subscription as a testimonial to his prowess to the immediate organization of plans for a flight from London to Paris.

The check received by M. Paulhan was contained in a basket of gold. In the absence of Lord Northcliffe, the presentation was made by M. Cambon, French ambassador to Great Britain.

Both aviators received the heartfelt congratulations from the others of the luncheon party.

Grace Flies Over Warships.

The fleet of British warships anchored off Sheerness had a novel experience to-day when an aeroplane from the Aero Club aviation grounds at East Church suddenly appeared out of the haze and manoeuvred over the vessels at varying heights. After making a deliberate reconnaissance the aerial craft disappeared from view.

The aeroplane is a Wright model, and was piloted by Cecil Grace. After leaving the harbor it flew nearly fifty miles in fifty-one minutes, flying at one time to a height of 1,500 feet.

Grace Using Wright Plane.

East Church, containing the Royal Aero Club's aviation grounds, is in the Isle of Sheppey.

Mr. Grace has been flying for some time, and his operations have attracted considerable attention. He uses a Short-Wright biplane.

Last month, while manoeuvring, he fell from a considerable height, but received only a few scratches. His machine was damaged, but not beyond easy repair.

N. & W. STATEMENT.

Substantial Increases Are Shown in Every Department.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Roanoke, Va., April 30.—The statement of the Norfolk and Western Railway for the month of March shows substantial increases in every department, not a single decrease being recorded.

Total earnings for the month were $2,154,285.28, an increase over the same month of 1909 of $856,325.73, or 28 per cent. Operating expenses, $1,800,504.94, an increase of $291,754.57, or 19 per cent. The earnings were $1,353,780.34, an increase of $295,572.16, or 41 per cent. Surplus, $583,275.67, an increase of $288,772.16.

For the nine months ending March 31 the total earnings were $25,923,927.22. Total operating expenses, $15,292,011.77; net earnings, $10,631,915.45; increase in net earnings, $2,091,849.48, or 24 per cent. Surplus for the nine months, $6,455,619.88, or an increase of $1,881,260.58.

Date for Memorial Day.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Fredericksburg, Va., April 30.—The Ladies' Memorial Association of this city has selected Thursday, May 13, as the Confederate Memorial Day in this city, and the celebration will be generally observed. The Daughters of the Confederacy will unite with the Memorial Association in the work, and various organizations will join in the parade.

Killing in Lindsay.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Bluffton, W. Va., April 30.—Almos Hatfield, shot and killed Constable Doc. Mounts at Lindsay, W. Va., this afternoon. Two shots were fired by Hatfield, both taking effect in the region of the heart, killing Mounts instantly.

Hollins Post-Office Robbed.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Roanoke, Va., April 30.—The post-office at Hollins was robbed last night of a few dollars in money and some stamps. There is no clue.

What Hans Wagner Has Done For Pittsburgh.

Broke the world's record throwing a baseball.

Led the National League in batting, stolen bases and single, double and triple hits.

In seventy-four games, made 110 hits and scored sixty runs.

Holds the record for successive hits in a single game.

Premier batter of the National League.

Is still playing ball.

Pittsburg, April 30.—Provoked that Founders' Day exercises at the Carnegie Institute, with President Taft as principal guest, should be side-tracked in favor of the Pittsburgh-Chicago ball game, Andrew Carnegie has permitted Pittsburgh to feel the weight of his displeasure. On being assured that Founders' Day exercises scheduled for next Monday afternoon have been brought forward into the morning in order that the baseball game be not interfered with, Mr. Carnegie has frankly announced the closing of his purse to Pittsburgh.

Colonel S. H. Church returned from New York, where he went to talk with Mr. Carnegie over the resumption of building the $10,000,000 Technical school at Pittsburgh, and admits that he was told there would be no more money given now. Mr. Carnegie pointed out that he had already given Pittsburgh $15,000,000 and would now be back for a while. E. M. Bigelow, also returned from a visit made for the purpose of having Mr. Carnegie close a promise which he had made to give a farm worth $250,000 in the Allegheny Valley for a Boys' Industrial School. Mr. Carnegie told Mr. Bigelow, with some feeling that he would not now give the property, but if Pittsburgh wanted to pay $500,000 for the property she could have it.

An amusing feature of the farm site matter is that until a short time ago Mr. Carnegie did not know that he owned this property. When shown that he really owned it, that he had bought it several years ago, he announced that he would give it to Pittsburgh. He has changed his mind recently. The property, which Mr. Carnegie demands $500,000 is assessed against him at $94,850, though Mr. Carnegie paid $252,015.50 for it years ago.

The City Fathers have risen in their anger and told Mr. Carnegie that they will not be "bulldozed."

DO IT NOW...

START TO SAVE, and would suggest no better way than to buy your groceries at our two stores, we being the LARGEST CASH GROCERY in the city, which enables you to buy your groceries for less money than the smaller merchant pays.

Bargains in Canned Goods

3 cans Epicure Brand Herring, 25c
1-lb. can Good Luck Baking Powders, 8c
1-lb. can Rumford Baking Powders, 25c
6 cans Fish Roe, while they last, for 25c
Best Chipped Beef, can, 14c
1-lb. can Corn Beef, 14c
Best Lunch Tongue, can, 15c
Ported Ham or Tongue, can, 15c

California Lemon Cling Peaches, extra heavy syrup, large cans, 15c
Vienna Sausage, can, 8c
Finest Asparagus, can, 22c
1-lb. can Libby's Sausage Meat, 14c
3 cans good Sardines for 10c
Best Sugar Corn, can, 7c
Tomatoes for soup, 2 cans, 10c
Large cans Tomatoes, 4 for 25c
3 cans Good Salmon for 25c
McMenamin Crabs, in 2-lb. cans; while they last, 2 for 25c

Bargains in Soaps

Octagon Soap Powders, 6 pkgs., 25c
Gold Dust, package, 8c
Dutch Cleaner, package, 8c
Celluloid or Ivory Starch, pkg., 4c
12 bars Swift Soap, 25c
Palm Toilet Soap, bar, 14c
Fairbanks' Tar Soap, bar, 4c
Fairbanks' Fairy Soap, 4c

Fairbanks' Pummo Soap, 4c
Fairbanks' Sunny Monday, for laundry, 4c
Octagon Soap, 4c
7 bars Swift's Pride Soap, 25c
1 bar Toilet Soap and box Talcum Powder, the two for 10c

Bargains in Meats and Lard

Country Bacon and Shoulders, per pound, only, 18c
Good Salt Pork, per lb., 12c
Finest Breakfast Bacon, per lb., 20c
Small Country Hams, per lb., 20c

Pillsbury Best Flour, 42c bag; or, per barrel, $6.50
Silver King, best Patent Flour made; per barrel, $6.00
$1.00 bottles Casey Malt Whiskey for 80c
Good Lard, per pound, only, 12c
New North Carolina Clipped Herring, 10c dozen; or, barrel, $4.25
$1.00 bottles of Old Fulcher Mountain Whiskey for 75c
Nice New, Sweet California Prunes, per pound, 5c
Choice Irish Potatoes, per peck, 15c; or, per bushel, 80c
Duffy Malt Whiskey, $1.00 bottle, 85c
Good Elgin Butter, per lb., 32c
4-String Brooms only, 25c
Virginia Comb Honey, 15c
Quart bottles Salad Oil, 20c
Nice New Cabbage, per pound, 4c
3 large cans Pie Peaches, for making pies, for 25c
1-lb. bricks Boneless Codfish, 6c
Good Ground Coffee, per lb., 10c
100-lb. sack Salt, 45c
Good Hay, per 100, $1.10

Large Sweet Florida Oranges, per dozen, 15c, 18c and 25c
Welch's Grape Juice, pint bottle, 25c; quart bottle, 45c
Best American Cream Cheese, per pound, 18c
Swift's Premium Ham, per lb., 20c
Old Rye Whiskey, four years old, per gallon, $2.00
Old Corn Whiskey, per gal., $2.00
Old Peach Brandy, per gal., $2.00
Old Apple Brandy, per gal., $2.00

Best Calumet Hams, per lb., 19c
Canned or Smoked California Hams, per lb., 14c
Good Lard, in 5 and 10-lb. cans, per lb., 12c
Country Jowls, per lb., 12c

Snow Flake Patent Family Flour, per bag, 37c; per barrel, $5.90
Dunlop Best Patent Flour, $6.25 barrel; per bag, 40c
4 cans Tomatoes for soup, 10c
5 lbs. of Carolina Rice for 25c
New Prepared Buckwheat, 2-lb. packages, 9c; 6-lb. pkgs., 25c
5-lb. cans of the very best Moca and Java Roasted Coffee for $1.00
Fresh Soda Crackers and Ginger Snaps, per pound, 5c
Large Lump Starch, 7 lbs. for 25c
Mother's and Quaker Oats, package, 9c
6 Large Mackerel for 25c
Try our Green, Mixed or Black Tea, formerly 60c; now we are selling it for 40c
Rye or Corn Whiskey, four years old, per quart, 50c; per gallon, $2.00

S. ULLMAN'S SON,

2 STORES

1820-22 E. Main Street, 506 E. Marshall Street, RICHMOND, VA.

Two phones at each store. Deliver goods all over city. Mail orders packed and delivered to depot free of charge. Remittances must accompany all out-of-town orders. Write for our catalogue.

ADMITS PLOT TO POISON OFFICERS

Lieutenant Hofrichter Confesses He Tried to Murder Superiors to Gain Promotion.

Vienna, April 30.—The mystery of the wholesale poisoning plot directed against recently promoted officers of the Austrian army, one of whom died as a result, has been cleared by the confession of Lieutenant Adolf Hofrichter, who yesterday admitted that he had sent capsules containing prussic acid to ten members of the general staff with the object of poisoning them. The capsules were accompanied with a circular recommending their use for ill health. Captain Mader, one of the officers addressed, took the preparation and died immediately.

Hofrichter's wife is suspected of complicity in the conspiracy, and is undergoing an examination by the magistrate. In his confession the lieutenant declared that his sole motive for the poisonings was a hope of becoming a staff officer through the death of his superiors.

The prisoner is now liable to a sentence of death or life imprisonment, which the Austrian military law prohibits except when an accused person makes a formal confession.

Suspicion was directed against Lieutenant Hofrichter, who was arrested November 27, by the discovery that his handwriting closely resembled that on the envelopes in which the capsules were sent to the fifty others, had taken an examination for promotion to the rank of captain. Thirty succeeded, leaving Hofrichter third on the unsuccessful list.

The police found that he was in the suburb where the poison packages were mailed on the date shown on the postmark. It was also discovered that he had also purchased prussic acid, saying he needed it in photographic work. A chemist in the village where Hofrichter's home is aware that the lieutenant purchased empty capsules similar to those sent to the officers, broke down and confessed.

Young Cobb, her youngest brother, was lured away from home to meet a woman in a lonely spot a few miles from Muskogee, Okla., April 30.—Succanne Lahoma, a Cherokee Indian singer, protegee of Mme. Schumann-Haegg, sang to an audience of 1,500 persons last night, while her brother, Ben Cobb, lay dead at a local morgue, having been murdered the previous night. But the singer did not know of the crime.

Miss Lahoma arrived home Thursday from Europe, where she had been studying voice culture under eminent tutors. She was billed to sing last night, and it was her first public appearance. She wanted to sing to the people at home, and the latter paid well so that she might obtain enough money to prepare for her engagement with a grand opera company in Europe.

Young Cobb, her youngest brother, was lured away from home to meet a woman in a lonely spot a few miles

from Muskogee, Okla., April 30.—Succanne Lahoma, a Cherokee Indian singer, protegee of Mme. Schumann-Haegg, sang to an audience of 1,500 persons last night, while her brother, Ben Cobb, lay dead at a local morgue, having been murdered the previous night. But the singer did not know of the crime.

Miss Lahoma arrived home Thursday from Europe, where she had been studying voice culture under eminent tutors. She was billed to sing last night, and it was her first public appearance. She wanted to sing to the people at home, and the latter paid well so that she might obtain enough money to prepare for her engagement with a grand opera company in Europe.

Young Cobb, her youngest brother, was lured away from home to meet a woman in a lonely spot a few miles

from Muskogee, Okla., April 30.—Succanne Lahoma, a Cherokee Indian singer, protegee of Mme. Schumann-Haegg, sang to an audience of 1,500 persons last night, while her brother, Ben Cobb, lay dead at a local morgue, having been murdered the previous night. But the singer did not know of the crime.

Miss Lahoma arrived home Thursday from Europe, where she had been studying voice culture under eminent tutors. She was billed to sing last night, and it was her first public appearance. She wanted to sing to the people at home, and the latter paid well so that she might obtain enough money to prepare for her engagement with a grand opera company in Europe.

Young Cobb, her youngest brother, was lured away from home to meet a woman in a lonely spot a few miles

from Muskogee, Okla., April 30.—Succanne Lahoma, a Cherokee Indian singer, protegee of Mme. Schumann-Haegg, sang to an audience of 1,500 persons last night, while her brother, Ben Cobb, lay dead at a local morgue, having been murdered the previous night. But the singer did not know of the crime.

Miss Lahoma arrived home Thursday from Europe, where she had been studying voice culture under eminent tutors. She was billed to sing last night, and it was her first public appearance. She wanted to sing to the people at home, and the latter paid well so that she might obtain enough money to prepare for her engagement with a grand opera company in Europe.

Young Cobb, her youngest brother, was lured away from home to meet a woman in a lonely spot a few miles

from Muskogee, Okla., April 30.—Succanne Lahoma, a Cherokee Indian singer, protegee of Mme. Schumann-Haegg, sang to an audience of 1,500 persons last night, while her brother, Ben Cobb, lay dead at a local morgue, having been murdered the previous night. But the singer did not know of the crime.

Miss Lahoma arrived home Thursday from Europe, where she had been studying voice culture under eminent tutors. She was billed to sing last night, and it was her first public appearance. She wanted to sing to the people at home, and the latter paid well so that she might obtain enough money to prepare for her engagement with a grand opera company in Europe.

Young Cobb, her youngest brother, was lured away from home to meet a woman in a lonely spot a few miles

from Muskogee, Okla., April 30.—Succanne Lahoma, a Cherokee Indian singer, protegee of Mme. Schumann-Haegg, sang to an audience of 1,500 persons last night, while her brother, Ben Cobb, lay dead at a local morgue, having been murdered the previous night. But the singer did not know of the crime.

Miss Lahoma arrived home Thursday from Europe, where she had been studying voice culture under eminent tutors. She was billed to sing last night, and it was her first public appearance. She wanted to sing to the people at home, and the latter paid well so that she might obtain enough money to prepare for her engagement with a grand opera company in Europe.

Young Cobb, her youngest brother, was lured away from home to meet a woman in a lonely spot a few miles

from Muskogee, Okla., April 30.—Succanne Lahoma, a Cherokee Indian singer, protegee of Mme. Schumann-Haegg, sang to an audience of 1,500 persons last night, while her brother, Ben Cobb, lay dead at a local morgue, having been murdered the previous night. But the singer did not know of the crime.

Miss Lahoma arrived home Thursday from Europe, where she had been studying voice culture under eminent tutors. She was billed to sing last night, and it was her first public appearance. She wanted to sing to the people at home, and the latter paid well so that she might obtain enough money to prepare for her engagement with a grand opera company in Europe.

Young Cobb, her youngest brother, was lured away from home to meet a woman in a lonely spot a few miles

from Muskogee, Okla., April 30.—Succanne Lahoma, a Cherokee Indian singer, protegee of Mme. Schumann-Haegg, sang to an audience of 1,500 persons last night, while her brother, Ben Cobb, lay dead at a local morgue, having been murdered the previous night. But the singer did not know of the crime.

Miss Lahoma arrived home Thursday from Europe, where she had been studying voice culture under eminent tutors. She was billed to sing last night, and it was her first public appearance. She wanted to sing to the people at home, and the latter paid well so that she might obtain enough money to prepare for her engagement with a grand opera company in Europe.

Young Cobb, her youngest brother, was lured away from home to meet a woman in a lonely spot a few miles

from Muskogee, Okla., April 30.—Succanne Lahoma, a Cherokee Indian singer, protegee of Mme. Schumann-Haegg, sang to an audience of 1,500 persons last night, while her brother, Ben Cobb, lay dead at a local morgue, having been murdered the previous night. But the singer did not know of the crime.

Miss Lahoma arrived home Thursday from Europe, where she had been studying voice culture under eminent tutors. She was billed to sing last night, and it was her first public appearance. She wanted to sing to the people at home, and the latter paid well so that she might obtain enough money to prepare for her engagement with a grand opera company in Europe.

Young Cobb, her youngest brother, was lured away from home to meet a woman in a lonely spot a few miles

from Muskogee, Okla., April 30.—Succanne Lahoma, a Cherokee Indian singer, protegee of Mme. Schumann-Haegg, sang to an audience of 1,500 persons last night, while her brother, Ben Cobb, lay dead at a local morgue, having been murdered the previous night. But the singer did not know of the crime.

Miss Lahoma arrived home Thursday from Europe, where she had been studying voice culture under eminent tutors. She was billed to sing last night, and it was her first public appearance. She wanted to sing to the people at home, and the latter paid well so that she might obtain enough money to prepare for her engagement with a grand opera company in Europe.

Young Cobb, her youngest brother, was lured away from home to meet a woman in a lonely spot a few miles

from Muskogee, Okla., April 30.—Succanne Lahoma, a Cherokee Indian singer, protegee of Mme. Schumann-Haegg, sang to an audience of 1,500 persons last night, while her brother, Ben Cobb, lay dead at a local morgue, having been murdered the previous night. But the singer did not know of the crime.

Miss Lahoma arrived home Thursday from Europe, where she had been studying voice culture under eminent tutors. She was billed to sing last night, and it was her first public appearance. She wanted to sing to the people at home, and the latter paid well so that she might obtain enough money to prepare for her engagement with a grand opera company in Europe.

Young Cobb, her youngest brother, was lured away from home to meet a woman in a lonely spot a few miles

from Muskogee, Okla., April 30.—Succanne Lahoma, a Cherokee Indian singer, protegee of Mme. Schumann-Haegg, sang to an audience of 1,500 persons last night, while her brother, Ben Cobb, lay dead at a local morgue, having been murdered the previous night. But the singer did not know of the crime.

Miss Lahoma arrived home Thursday from Europe, where she had been studying voice culture under eminent tutors. She was billed to sing last night, and it was her first public appearance. She wanted to sing to the people at home, and the latter paid well so that she might obtain enough money to prepare for her engagement with a grand opera company in Europe.

Young Cobb, her youngest brother, was lured away from home to meet a woman in a lonely spot a few miles

from Muskogee, Okla., April 30.—Succanne Lahoma, a Cherokee Indian singer, protegee of Mme. Schumann-Haegg, sang to an audience of 1,500 persons last night, while her brother, Ben Cobb, lay dead at a local morgue, having been murdered the previous night. But the singer did not know of the crime.

Miss Lahoma arrived home Thursday from Europe, where she had been studying voice culture under eminent tutors. She was billed to sing last night, and it was her first public appearance. She wanted to sing to the people at home, and the latter paid well so that she might obtain enough money to prepare for her engagement with a grand opera company in Europe.

Young Cobb, her youngest brother, was lured away from home to meet a woman in a lonely spot a few miles

from Muskogee, Okla., April 30.—Succanne Lahoma, a Cherokee Indian singer, protegee of Mme. Schumann-Haegg, sang to an audience of 1,500 persons last night, while her brother, Ben Cobb, lay dead at a local morgue, having been murdered the previous night. But the singer did not know of the crime.

Miss Lahoma arrived home Thursday from Europe, where she had been studying voice culture under eminent tutors. She was billed to sing last night, and it was her first public appearance. She wanted to sing to the people at home, and the latter paid well so that she might obtain enough money to prepare for her engagement with a grand opera company in Europe.

Young Cobb, her youngest brother, was lured away from home to meet a woman in a lonely spot a few miles

from Muskogee, Okla., April 30.—Succanne Lahoma, a Cherokee Indian singer, protegee of Mme. Schumann-Haegg, sang to an audience of 1,500 persons last night, while her brother, Ben Cobb, lay dead at a local morgue, having been murdered the previous night. But the singer did not know of the crime.

Miss Lahoma arrived home Thursday from Europe, where she had been studying voice culture under eminent tutors. She was billed to sing last night, and it was her first public appearance. She wanted to sing to the people at home, and the latter paid well so that she might obtain enough money to prepare for her engagement with a grand opera company in Europe.

Young Cobb, her youngest brother, was lured away from home to meet a woman in a lonely spot a few miles

from Muskogee, Okla., April 30.—Succanne Lahoma, a Cherokee Indian singer, protegee of Mme. Schumann-Haegg, sang to an audience of 1,500 persons last night, while her brother, Ben Cobb, lay dead at a local morgue, having been murdered the previous night. But the singer did not know of the crime.

Miss Lahoma arrived home Thursday from Europe, where she had been studying voice culture under eminent tutors. She was billed to sing last night, and it was her first public appearance. She wanted to sing to the people at home, and the latter paid well so that she might obtain enough money to prepare for her engagement with a grand opera company in Europe.

Young Cobb, her youngest brother, was lured away from home to meet a woman in a lonely spot a few miles

from Muskogee, Okla., April 30.—Succanne Lahoma, a Cherokee Indian singer, protegee of Mme. Schumann-Haegg, sang to an audience of 1,500 persons last night, while her brother, Ben Cobb, lay dead at a local morgue, having been murdered the previous night. But the singer did not know of the crime.

Miss Lahoma arrived home Thursday from Europe, where she had been studying voice culture under eminent tutors. She was billed to sing last night, and it was her first public appearance. She wanted to sing to the people at home, and the latter paid well so that she might obtain enough money to prepare for her engagement with a grand opera company in Europe.

Young Cobb, her youngest brother, was lured away from home to meet a woman in a lonely spot a few miles

from Muskogee, Okla., April 30.—Succanne Lahoma, a Cherokee Indian singer, protegee of Mme. Schumann-Haegg, sang to an audience of 1,500 persons last night, while her brother, Ben Cobb, lay dead at a local morgue, having been murdered the previous night. But the singer did not know of the crime.

Miss Lahoma arrived home Thursday from Europe, where she had been studying voice culture under eminent tutors. She was billed to sing last night, and it was her first public appearance. She wanted to sing to the people at home, and the latter paid well so that she might obtain enough money to prepare for her engagement with a grand opera company in Europe.

Young Cobb, her youngest brother, was lured away from home to meet a woman in a lonely spot a few miles

from Muskogee, Okla., April 30.—Succanne Lahoma, a Cherokee Indian singer, protegee of Mme. Schumann-Haegg, sang to an audience of 1,500 persons last night, while her brother, Ben Cobb, lay dead at a local morgue, having been murdered the previous night. But the singer did not know of the crime.

Miss Lahoma arrived home Thursday from Europe, where she had been studying voice culture under eminent tutors. She was billed to sing last night, and it was her first public appearance. She wanted to sing to the people at home, and the latter paid well so that she might obtain enough money to prepare for her engagement with a grand opera company in Europe.

Young Cobb, her youngest brother, was lured away from home to meet a woman in a lonely spot a few miles

from Muskogee, Okla., April 30.—Succanne Lahoma, a Cherokee Indian singer, protegee of Mme. Schumann-Haegg, sang to an audience of 1,500 persons last night, while her brother, Ben Cobb, lay dead at a local morgue, having been murdered the previous night. But the singer did not know of the crime.

Miss Lahoma arrived home Thursday from Europe, where she had been studying voice culture under eminent tutors. She was billed to sing last night, and it was her first public appearance. She wanted to sing to the people at home, and the latter paid well so that she might obtain enough money to prepare for her engagement with a grand opera company in Europe.

Young Cobb, her youngest brother, was lured away from home to meet a woman in a lonely spot a few miles

from Muskogee, Okla., April 30.—Succanne Lahoma, a Cherokee Indian singer, protegee of Mme. Schumann-Haegg, sang to an audience of 1,500 persons last night, while her brother, Ben Cobb, lay dead at a local morgue, having been murdered the previous night. But the singer did not know of the crime.

Miss Lahoma arrived home Thursday from Europe, where she had been studying voice culture under eminent tutors. She was billed to sing last night, and it was her first public appearance. She wanted to sing to the people at home, and the latter paid well so that she might obtain enough money to prepare for her engagement with a grand opera company in Europe.

Young Cobb, her youngest brother, was lured away from home to meet a woman in a lonely spot a few miles

from Muskogee, Okla., April 30.—Succanne Lahoma, a Cherokee Indian singer, protegee of Mme. Schumann-Haegg, sang to an audience of 1,500 persons last night, while her brother, Ben Cobb, lay dead at a local morgue, having been murdered the previous night. But the singer did not know of the crime.

Miss Lahoma arrived home Thursday from Europe, where she had been studying voice culture under eminent tutors. She was billed to sing last night, and it was her first public appearance. She wanted to sing to the people at home, and the latter paid well so that she might obtain enough money to prepare for her engagement with a grand opera company in Europe.

Young Cobb, her youngest brother, was lured away from home to meet a woman in a lonely spot a few miles

"Samuel Clemens"

Children's Spring Reefers; regular $4.50 values; special for $3.19

They are smart little garments, tastily trimmed with emblems and velvet collars, and come in shepherd plaids, red and tan cloth, blue serge and fancy patterns; $4.50 values; your choice for $3.19.

Boys' Bloomer Pants; special 50c

Children's Wash Suits; special values at 50c, 75c, $1.00, $1.25 and $1.50.

Boys' Knickerbocker Suits, $4.00 values; special price $2.73

They are durable and very desirable Suits for boys 8 to 17 years, and come in blue serges and neat mixtures. Splendid quality for $2.73.

Boys' Negligee Shirts, with attached collars; colors in blue, pink, white and tan; sizes 12 to 14; price $50c

Boys' Poroknit Union Suits, sizes 24 to 34; 35c quality, $25c

Boys' Nainsook Union Suits, knee lengths, 24 to 34..... 50c